Scripps Selects WANTED Technologies as Recruitment Advertising Intelligence Provider for Next Three Years

Montreal, April 24, 2007 – WANTED Technologies Corporation (TSX: WAN) announces today a 36-month agreement has been signed with The E. W. Scripps company and their affiliate newspapers for sales tools to be used by their classified advertising teams.

Scripps-owned newspapers including the Knoxville News Sentinel (Knoxville, TN), the Commercial Appeal (Memphis, TN), the Corpus Christi Caller-Times (Corpus Christi, TX) and Treasure Coast Publishing (Stuart, FL) are among the affiliates that will have access to WANTED's recruitment advertising tools.

"These are excellent tools that we believe will make it possible for our newspapers to have up-to-the-minute information regarding their advertisers and online competitors in the lucrative recruitment category," says Linda Sease, director of newspaper marketing for Scripps.

The agreement includes real-time access to WANTED Analytics, an employer-specific dashboard of recruitment advertising statistics, as well as weekly business leads and market share reporting for each affiliate.
