Monster Worldwide Inc. Renews Agreement with WANTED Technologies

Quebec City, Quebec – May 8th, 2008. WANTED Technologies Corporation (TSX-V: WAN), a leader in sales and competitive intelligence solutions for media companies, announced today that it has renewed its national sales intelligence agreement with Monster Worldwide. WANTED has been supplying Monster since 2003 with timely market and sales intelligence on all businesses using competing online job boards to source employment candidates.

WANTED supplies Monster with a premium suite of data, market intelligence and sales leads. This includes data on millions of job openings gathered on a daily basis from hundreds of online job boards. WANTED consolidates stores and analyzes this information and provides electronic data feeds directly to Monster's Customer Relationship Management (CRM) systems.

Monster's sales rep use WANTED's timely sales lead data to increase sales productivity through higher close rates and greater average sales volume per client.

Additionally, WANTED applies proprietary Sales Opportunity Scoring algorithms to all data it collects to enable Monster's sales reps to evaluate and rank sales prospects.

"Monster is a leader in the world of online recruitment, because it has always been among the first to adopt innovative, effective solutions like WANTED's," said Bruce Murray, President and CEO of WANTED Tech. "We are proud to have served Monster with our most advanced services since 2003."
